A Corduroy Negligee

has several interesting fashion points to intrigue one's fancy—it is straight in front and Russian-bloused in back—it is banded with Jeanette fur in chinchilla effect—and is lined throughout with silk. In wisteria, purple and blue . . . 15.00

Third Floor

A Tot's Frock from Paris

is made of crisp dotted Swiss, the dots in ochre, pink and orchid—and several sprays of hand embroidery in these shades emphasize the color scheme. Finished with tiny tucks and Irish crochet. 10.50

WOMEN'S

Smart Dinner Frocks at 25.00

Georgette crepe of excellent quality joins forces with richly beautiful Spanish lace to form some of the most interesting frocks for informal dinner and theatre wear.

The skill of the clever designer is revealed in the charmingly fashioned skirt with its pointed panels set off by side cascades of lace; in the graceful blouse with its lace sleeves and in the softly crushed sash, caught with a flower.

In black or brown, and a very rich shade of henna. Pictured. Sizes 34 to 42.

20 Higher Cost Gowns

Paris-inspired, and of Richest Materials

Regularly 165.00 to 185.00

A SALE OF UNUSUAL INTEREST!

150 Women's Imported Sweaters

Regularly up to 29.75

At 9.75

Rarely indeed does one secure such values as these—for many of these sweaters have been taken from regular stock and reduced—the rest are the result of an extraordinary purchase, each made to sell at a much higher price, and so distinctive in weave and styling that selection will prove a simple matter.

Finest mohair, llama laces, chiffon alpaca and brushed camel's wool develop them, in coat or slip on models, in a host of smart colorings. Third Floor

"Plastique" Corsets

—sold exclusively by Saks & Company—

Are so comfortable to wear, so graceful of line, and so finely made that many women who pride themselves on dressing correctly will wear no other corsets.

In every model is used the special Plastique boning—an important feature in the making of Plastique corsets for the full figure and equally effective in moulding the changing contours of youth into lines of pliant grace.

Materials and workmanship in every model are so superior that it is no wonder Plastique corsets have gained—and hold—their remarkable vogue.
